

Practicing Resurrection

Anastasis, Waking up and Standing up is the Clarion Call in these Dark Times.

with
Lynn Bauman and Alison Hine

Sunday Evening June 5th — Saturday Noon June 11th

On ZOOM.

It is not enough to be a wisdom seeker. We are urgently being called into greater responsibility: to be protectors of the treasure trove of the wisdom of Sophia Perennis. We are also called to become beacons of light, hope, love and stability in a world gone unstable. We are to infuse this moment with the practice of resurrection—an arising into higher consciousness and greater responsibility in being. When the world around us is breaking apart and exposing the seams of corruption, oppression, violence and exploitation, we are called upon to stand up into light, love and hope. This is the gift and the medicine we bring into this world.

During this wisdom school we will listen deeply to what the wisdom of the sages and mystics are telling and teaching us about the resurrection of consciousness and being in this troubled moment. We will practice in silence drawing on the rich treasury of contemplative practice that unlocks the treasures lying within us. We will open up into the imaginal world through our collective practice of midrash. We will spend time out doors and in movement. Throughout we will explore and challenge ourselves to stay awake in the midst of this world on fire.

To register: Email Sally Roberts at orientalorthodoxorder@gmail.com

Fee: Suggested Donation $200

You will receive details about payment once you have registered.

